"My trip to Seacom was a mind opening experience, not only did I learn about the world of technology and all its wonders but I also learned about things I didn't even think I'd find interesting."

My favourite part for the trip was learning about finances and how a good credit score is beneficial for future purposes."

"I learnt something that I did not know which is that the Seacom company is the company that makes it possible by supplying network in other parts of the world."

"I learned so much about my stream. At first, I wasn't sure and now I am. I made a promise about wanting to be a lawyer in ten years, so now I know I must do it."

"The career field that i got interested in was focused on protecting computer systems, networks, software and data from digital attacks and unauthorized access."

"We learned that we should face our challenges and not run away."

"At Seacom, I learned how important teamwork, problem-solving, and innovation are in creating strong digital connections across Africa and beyond. The workers I met were not only skilled in their fields, but they also shared valuable advice about building a career. One lesson that really stood out to me was how technology is not just about machines and cables it's about people. Seacom's team emphasized how their work connects communities, creates opportunities, and makes the world more accessible. That really inspired me to think about my own future and the kind of impact I want to make."

"I hope we can go every year!"
